Hello i have had xm radio for a yr. now and i enjoy it everyday and thank god for it. The reason i had it pre-installed in car was i knew the kind of channels it offered. Regular radio no longer has pure dance music stations the only one here in chicago was energy 92.7 now they are no longer and i love my dance stations all of them. Also xm radio offers comdey channels that u will never get in regular radio due to the nature of some of the programs and i enjoy that very much and other family members enjoy the 40s,50's and 60's channels as well as he the channel with all the old radio talk shows that only xm offers and i also love the e channel that gives you e entertainment. Last, but not least i love the local weather and channel report i mean its alwasy up to date and its something constant so if u need something in an emergency its there regular radio once again does it so often in its programming which is not enough and people pay to listen to it and i still listen to regular radion from time to time and i think that stopping it is dumb. Point and fact look how many people have cable or satellite tv and no one say anything about that and people have to pay to have those to and people watch that a lot more then they watch regualr tv cause regular tv can only offer so much and now people are heading away from cable even to go to satellite now so just leave xm radio alone cause there is cirus radio now and i am sure more competitors are in the making if people are willing to pay for it then they should have to right to have the highest of quality.thank you for taking the time to read my view point.
